Converted in 2021 and finished to an excellent standard, the property combines modern finishes with traditional stonework, arrow-slit windows and exposed structural details, creating a stylish and highly individual family home.

The ground-floor accommodation is centred around a superb open-plan kitchen, breakfast, dining and sitting room, thoughtfully arranged across defined levels to create a sociable yet versatile living space. The kitchen is fitted with a range of contemporary units, integrated appliances and a central island, while the adjoining breakfast area provides an informal space for everyday dining. Steps rise to the spacious dining and sitting areas, where timber flooring, exposed ceiling beams and an Esse wood-burning stove add warmth and character. An impressive full-height window floods the room with natural light and provides a wonderful connection with the gardens, complemented by the barn's original arrow-slit windows. Practicality has also been carefully considered, with the ground floor further comprising a cloakroom incorporating the plant room, a useful utility room and a dedicated office area, ideal for home working.

Stairs rise to the first floor accommodation, where four well-proportioned double bedrooms are thoughtfully arranged. Two bedrooms are served by the family bathroom, while a further double bedroom benefits from its own en-suite shower room. Positioned at the opposite end of the property, the generous principal bedroom enjoys a greater sense of privacy and is complemented by a spacious en-suite shower room.
